

A photograph of a wedding tasting menu table setting. The table is covered with a light-colored, distressed wood surface. In the foreground, a beige linen napkin is folded into a triangle, with two gold forks and two gold knives laid out on it. To the left, a white plate holds a menu card with the text "LET'S DINE" and a gold spoon. In the background, a white ceramic vase holds a large white daisy flower and several tall white candles, surrounded by a large arrangement of light blue hydrangeas. A tall, clear champagne flute and a shorter, clear water glass are also visible on the table.
